

Protests Build After 7 Killed in Plane Crash

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A tide of protest was rising today against the practice of testing airplanes over populous areas as a result of the flaming crash of a huge bomber into a crowded schoolyard.

The reaction came within hours after the four-engine plane collided at 20,000 feet with a jet fighter or yesterday, then came down in a screaming dive, breaking apart as it fell.

The accident, which took place as both planes were being tested, left seven dead and 78 injured.

In Washington, Rep. Edgar W. Costello (R-Calif.) immediately called for an investigation of flight-testing over populated areas. He asked that all test flights over Los Angeles be stopped, pending examination of the regulations.

Residents for miles around said the sound of the transport crash was "like an earthquake."

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A collision-crippled airplane smashed into a crowded schoolyard yesterday, scattering its deadly debris like shrapnel. Seven persons died, two of them children.

The injured numbered 78. Shocked citizens today sought some curb on plane testing over such populous areas as this sprawling San Fernando Valley city.

The four-engine plane, on its final test flight, collided at 20,000 feet with a jet fighter, also being tested. The transport came down in a screaming dive, disintegrating as it fell.

A blazing wing section exploded over the athletic field at Pacoima Junior High school, where nearly 100 seventh-grade boys in gym clothes were exercising.

The plane's flying fragments cut them down as they ran. Two were hurt fatally. The four men in the transport also were killed, as was the pilot of the fighter plane.

Hospitals said 28 persons were admitted, all but one of them pupils. Fifty other boys were treated and released, attendants reported.

Two other schools, a church and scores of residences for blocks around were damaged by bits and pieces of the plane as it burst like a fiery bomb over the residential area 20 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

In Washington, D.C., southern California House members united in a demand for an investigation. They said they would seek to prevent future test flights over populous areas. City and school officials joined in condemning the practice.

Hundreds of persons saw the tow planes plunge from cloudless skies.

The big silver airliner, a DC-7 being readied by Douglas Aircraft for Continental Air Lines, turned in a vast curve, spouting flames and smoke. As the angle of its dive steepened it came apart piece by piece, filling the air with debris.

"It looked like stove pipes and ticker tape falling," said a motorist, M. C. Dougherty.

The jet, an F89 Scorpion being tested by Northrop Aircraft, Inc., went down several miles east of Pacoima.

"It kept going straight for a moment," said Jack Balch, 41, who was working in his yard at the time. "Then it banked slightly and went straight down into the ground."

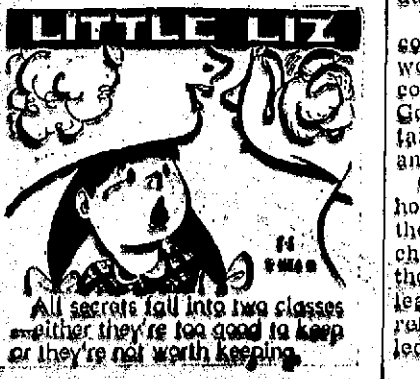

Rice for Ducks Negotiated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Contracts for raising rice as food for ducks during 1957 are being negotiated with farmers by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission T. H. Holdedader said today.

Holder, federal-aid coordinator and director of field operations, said the program was authorized by the federal government in the interest of wildlife conservation and farming operations.

Rice raised for ducks under the program is in addition to that raised under the acreage allotment program, he said, but it may not be used in any way to gain advantage over acreage control provisions.

Yesterday in Pictures — 2 Beat Auto License Deadline The March of Dimes Collects

TOP — Roosevelt Williams, Negro, 220 E. Ave. D, Hope, was the last person in Hempstead county to buy a 1957 Arkansas automobile license before the deadline Thursday night. The number he drew was 25-3478. The picture shows him receiving the plate from Mrs. Carl Jones, state revenue inspector, just before the State Revenue Department office in the courthouse closed out January business at 8 p. m. License applicants now must pay a $3 fine. Shown with Mrs. Jones in the revenue office is Mrs. Guy Card.

MIDDLE — Next-to-last person to buy a license without penalty was Herman Lester, 901 E. Seventh St., Hope. He just did make it to the office before closing time after his day's work at Southwestern Packing Co. His number: 25-3477.

BOTTOM — Mrs. A. Nash, chairman of the Mothers' March on Police campaign for Ward Four, received a $25 contribution Thursday from County Judge U. G. Garrett at his home at 310 W. Ave. B. The city-wide Mothers' March netted $586.48.

Fewer Bills Signal No Real Increase Need

State Capital Bureau

LITTLE ROCK, (Special). At this point in the 60th General Assembly two years ago, the volume of bills introduced and enacted into law was considerably in excess of the current sessions production.

That in itself, a long-time member of the House said today, is proof positive there is no urgency emanating from the public behind any measures or any "program."

It is this situation, in his opinion, that constitutes the chief threat to the Faubus administration as it musters its forces to push its tax package in the House. A strong show of opposition among taxpayers will, it is being freely predicted, send the Faubus bills the way of the 1951 and 1955 sales tax increase proposals.

Neither made the grade. At the close of business Wednesday, the House had received 192 bills. Two years ago, at the corresponding time, 266 House bills had been introduced.

In the Senate, it's much the same story. In 1955, when the third Wednesday had come and gone, 104 Senate bills had been offered. The 1957 total was down to 129.

Except for Governor Faubus' demand for $22,000,000 in new revenue, the number of bills would be appreciably less, for aside from his own measures which Senator Lee Bearden of Mississippi County is sponsoring there are many which were introduced as alternatives.

With nothing of a critical nature confronting it, the House has six weeks in which to make up its collective mind about the sales tax bill — it's the one that anxious to have passed.

Opponents don't have much hope of preventing passage but they are inclined to think the chances are good of vetoing down the emergency clause. That will leave the way open for referendum petitions to keep collections at the 50 per cent higher.

Russia Charges Evasion of Arms Program

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today accused the Western Powers of deliberately evading a solution for the problem of world disarmament.

It charged, in a statement distributed by Tass, that the United States was "speeding up preparations for a new atomic war—an obvious reference to American plans to establish foreign support commands."

The statement said the United States used not only evasion but delaying tactics within the United Nations to avoid a solution on the disarmament problem.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichev, who called a news conference to announce the official statement, said that despite what he called Western provocations the Soviet Union "is and will continue its efforts towards solving the problem."

The official statement traced the disarmament question back to Russia's Nov. 17 proposals to the West. At that time, the Kremlin asked the West to agree on a lengthy program, including dissolution of military pacts, a ban on nuclear tests and weapons, withdrawal of all foreign troops, and even aerial inspection along a strip separating the Communist and non-Communist areas of Europe.

Maner Doesn't Plan to Quit

BENTON (UP) — Saline Circuit Judge Ernest Maner said yesterday he has no plans to resign despite a front page editorial in the Benton Courier demanding his resignation.

Judge Maner was censured by the Arkansas Supreme Court and the bar rules committee for "highly reprehensible" action in accepting campaign contributions from a known gambler.

The Courier said the censure should have been enough to convince the judge he should give up the bench.

However, Maner said that to resign without attempting to clear himself "quitting me to a political cross."

Minimum Salary for Teachers Voted by House

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House today passed 91-0 a bill establishing minimum salaries for public school teachers.

The salary floors would range from $1,500 a year for beginning teachers with less than 90 semester hours of college training through a minimum of $2,700 for beginners with bachelor's degrees and $3,000 for those with a master's degree.

The author, Rep. Ben Bynum of Chicago County, emphasized that school boards could add to these minimums.

Bynum said the bill would not conflict with a pending measure intended to assure that approximately 90 per cent of any new public school revenue from proposed tax increases would go to classroom teachers.

The bill passed today now goes to the Senate.

The House passed without opposition a bill by Rep. Jim Cones Jr., of Pulaski County to stiffen the penalties for display or distribution of obscene books and pictures. A third offense would be a felony subject to a penitentiary sentence of one to three years.

Also passed was a bill by Rep. W. A. Branch of Greene County to fix a special $5 indefinite license fee for antique automobiles — those 25 years or older.

A Senate bill to waive the interest on $500,000 of state-owned bonds issued to build War Memorial Stadium here was approved and sent to Gov. Orval Faubus. Similar measures have been passed during previous legislative sessions.

Lawmakers May Increase Their Salaries

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A constitutional amendment to increase the salaries for elected state officials and members of the Legislature was introduced in the House today.

The salary of the governor would be raised from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, attorney general from $6,000 to $9,000 and pay of other elected state officials from $5,000 to $7,500 except lieutenant governor whose $2,500 salary would be increased to $3,750.

Biennial pay of House and Senate members would be increased from $1,000 to $2,000.

Another proposed amendment would permit municipalities to vote an additional 5-mill ad valorem property tax for general purposes. If the Legislature approves the proposal will be submitted to popular vote at the November 1958 general election.

A House bill was submitted to give the state all the breakage, or odd cents, collected in pari mutual betting on horse races at Hot Springs' Oaklawn Park. The state now receives two-thirds of the breakage. A provision that the state-collected amount be divided equally with Hot Springs would not be charged.

A bill to permit gasoline stations to remain open on Sunday was submitted by Jefferson County Judge R. C. Nelson of Pine Bluff apparently as a result of recent enforcement of Sunday closing laws in Pine Bluff.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichev, who called a news conference to announce the official statement, said that despite what he called Western provocations the Soviet Union "is and will continue its efforts towards solving the problem."

The official statement traced the disarmament question back to Russia's Nov. 17 proposals to the West. To Reorganize LP Gas Control

By ADREN COOPER

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill which would reorganize the liquefied petroleum gas control board was passed unanimously by the Arkansas Senate today after an hour of good-humored filibustering by Sen. Jack Clark of Texarkana.

The measure transfers the responsibility for inspecting liquefied gas tanks from the Boiler Inspection Division of the state Labor Department to the Liquefied Petroleum Industry.

Clark frankly admitted he was talking against the bill because he had no assurance someone from his district would be appointed to the proposed 7-man board.

Other senators quickly retaliated by introducing a bill to remove the present sales tax exemption on border cities. The measure would affect Texarkana, Clark's home town.

Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs said 34 senators had signed the bill.

Wilson Now May Have to Resign

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising criticism of Secretary of Defense Wilson's remarks about the National Guard and his wife's reaction to that outcry raised this question today: How long before he resigns?

For Wilson to quit now would make it appear he was getting out under fire.

Also, he has indicated to newsmen he planned to stay on at least until Congress completes action on the military budget late this spring or in the summer.

But that was several weeks ago — before his statement to the House Armed Services Committee Monday that "a sort of scandal" — a draft dodging business — developed during the Korean War when youths below 18½, the minimum draft age, could enlist in the National Guard "and not be drafted to fight."

Creek Spreads Out of Banks

This picture was taken at 11:15 a. m. today from the bridge on Highway 4 near Columbus Road junction. After yesterday's rain this scene showing the bottom lands inundated is typical all over the county.

6.09 Inches of Rainfall Sends Total to 10.54

According to the Experiment station 6.09 inches of rain fell in Hempstead from 4 a. m. Thursday January 31 to 8 a. m., Friday February 1.

Thus February starts off with more rainfall in a single day than the normal fall of 4.07 for the entire month. Actually some of the 4.99 from 8 a. m. yesterday until 7 a. m. Friday is in January but, officially, February gets the credit as the reading is made at the Experiment Station at 7 a. m. each day. So February is .02 of an inch over the normal fall.

And officially January closed out with 5.55 inches, some .59 of an inch above the normal fall of the month.

This section closed out 1956

Just 19.33 inches short of the average annual rainfall of 51.35 inches. So according to figures registered through February 1, the 10.54 inches so far in 1957 represents nearly one third of the 32.02 inches which fell during the entire year.

The rain during January was just like a special order, falling fairly consistently when it finally started but never a down pour until after four or more inches were recorded. So more than four inches soaked right into the ground with practically no runoff. This was followed by the deluge yesterday which was a real "pond filler."

This in the matter of rainfall 1957 has started out just perfect.

Tax Exemption Brings Hot House Fight

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — One of the hottest controversies of 1955 flared anew in the state Senate yesterday as administration leaders defeated an attempt to recapture the sales tax to livestock and poultry feed.

The livestock and poultry feed exemption, which passed the 1955 General Assembly with strong backing from Gov. Orval Faubus, was brought up about 24 hours after the Senate had given overwhelming approval to Faubus' new $22-million-dollar annual tax increase program. That program included raising of the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents on the dollar.

The drive to repeal the exemption — which failed 19-12 — was a surprise psychological move engineered by Sen. Arvid Gregory of Little Rock and Morrell Gathright of the Bluff, both of whom had worked against Faubus' tax program.

As it turned out, those favoring retention of the exemption had plenty of votes, but at least one senator on the winning side, Boss Mitchell of Danville, seemed worried about the outcome. He stalled for 35 minutes by holding the floor before running out of steam.

After the decisive vote, the Senate applied the clincher, but two other bills which would accomplish the same purpose are still pending.

The upper chamber also passed a bill for a slight revision of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission setup without opposition were repeal of the honey tax and application of the 2 per cent use tax to machinery that is brought into the state for the purpose of construction in the state.

Gregory, author of the feed tax exemption repeal bill, first had to get his measure out of committee before bringing it to a showdown.

Sen. Lee Bearden of Leachville, who has championed Faubus' measures, said that the bill was "spite or 'get even' legislation" the governor and those who voted for his tax program.

Gregory won a 10-14 vote on a motion to take the bill out of Bearden's Revenue and Taxation Committee. While Sen. Ellis Fagan of Little Rock, who was occupying the chair in the absence of Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon, was deciding whether a two-thirds majority was necessary for such a motion, Bill should be declared out of committee 10 days. He was upheld.

Gathright pointed out that the bill in committee 10 days. He was upheld.

Those who voted with Gregory on his motion which was later expunged from the record because it was unnecessary apparently wished to avoid a public hearing on the bill.

Bearden made a motion to refer the bill to his committee. Gregory mentioned the fact that his bill was introduced prior to Faubus' sales, income and sever-

Heavy Rains General in All Arkansas

By The Associated Press

The rainfall tempo stepped up in Arkansas last night with at least two cities recording more than four inches during the 24-hour period that ended this morning.

Rain, ranging from a trace at Fayetteville up to 5.52 inches at Texarkana and 4.56 inches at Pine Bluff, was reported at each of the U. S. Weather Bureau's reporting stations in Arkansas.

It was a continuation of the general rains that have blanketed Arkansas the past two weeks.

There were no reports of serious flooding but weather observers at several cities said they believed they were near the danger point.

Temperatures in the 40s prevailed over most of the state, eliminating any immediate threat of an ice storm comparable to the one that did an estimated million dollars worth of damage in north Arkansas early this week.

The U. S. Weather Bureau gave this explanation for the deluge: Cooler air moved into Arkansas behind the recent cold front, forcing moist warm air from the Gulf of Mexico to rise. When the warm air went up it cooled and released its moisture.

$26 Million Is Chopped Off Drought Fund

By NEIL MACNEIL

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Appropriations committee today slashed $26 million from the administration's proposed $76 million emergency aid program for farmers and ranchers in the drought-ridden Great Plains States.

The congressman said in an official report that $20 million of the amount they cut is not needed now. They said President Eisenhower can get it later. If it is still needed.

The President's $76 million program, based on findings during his recent tour of the drought region, called for immediate soil conservation programs and for rushing feed grains to the stricken area.

Agriculture Department officials had said some of the money would not be used until later this summer or fall. But they asked that all the money be provided now in an urgent deficiency bill.

The House Agriculture committee yesterday approved a bill to spend $25 million annually on a soil bank for ranchers in drought areas.

Rancher would be paid $1 to $1.25 for each acre of land they took out of use. Some 25 million acres of land could be set aside under the program.

The appropriations committee today approved deficiency appropriations to provide:

1. $15 million for immediate soil conservation programs to provide for deep field plowing and emergency cover to stop wind erosion. Mr. Eisenhower asked $25 million for this purpose — with $7 million or it to be spent next summer, fall and winter.

2. $15 million for the disaster loan revolving fund to provide emergency feed and seed for farmers and ranchers. Mr. Eisenhower asked $25 million. The committee said only $10 million is urgently needed now, and the remaining $5 million is to be used as a reserve fund.

3. $20 million for farm ownership loans. Mr. Eisenhower asked $26 million. The committee said the $20 million fund would be "adequate."

Faubus Won't Sign Auto License Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Because the "bill has a flaw in it," Gov. Orval Faubus will veto a measure that would extend the deadline for buying motor vehicle plates, he said today.

At his news conference the governor said:

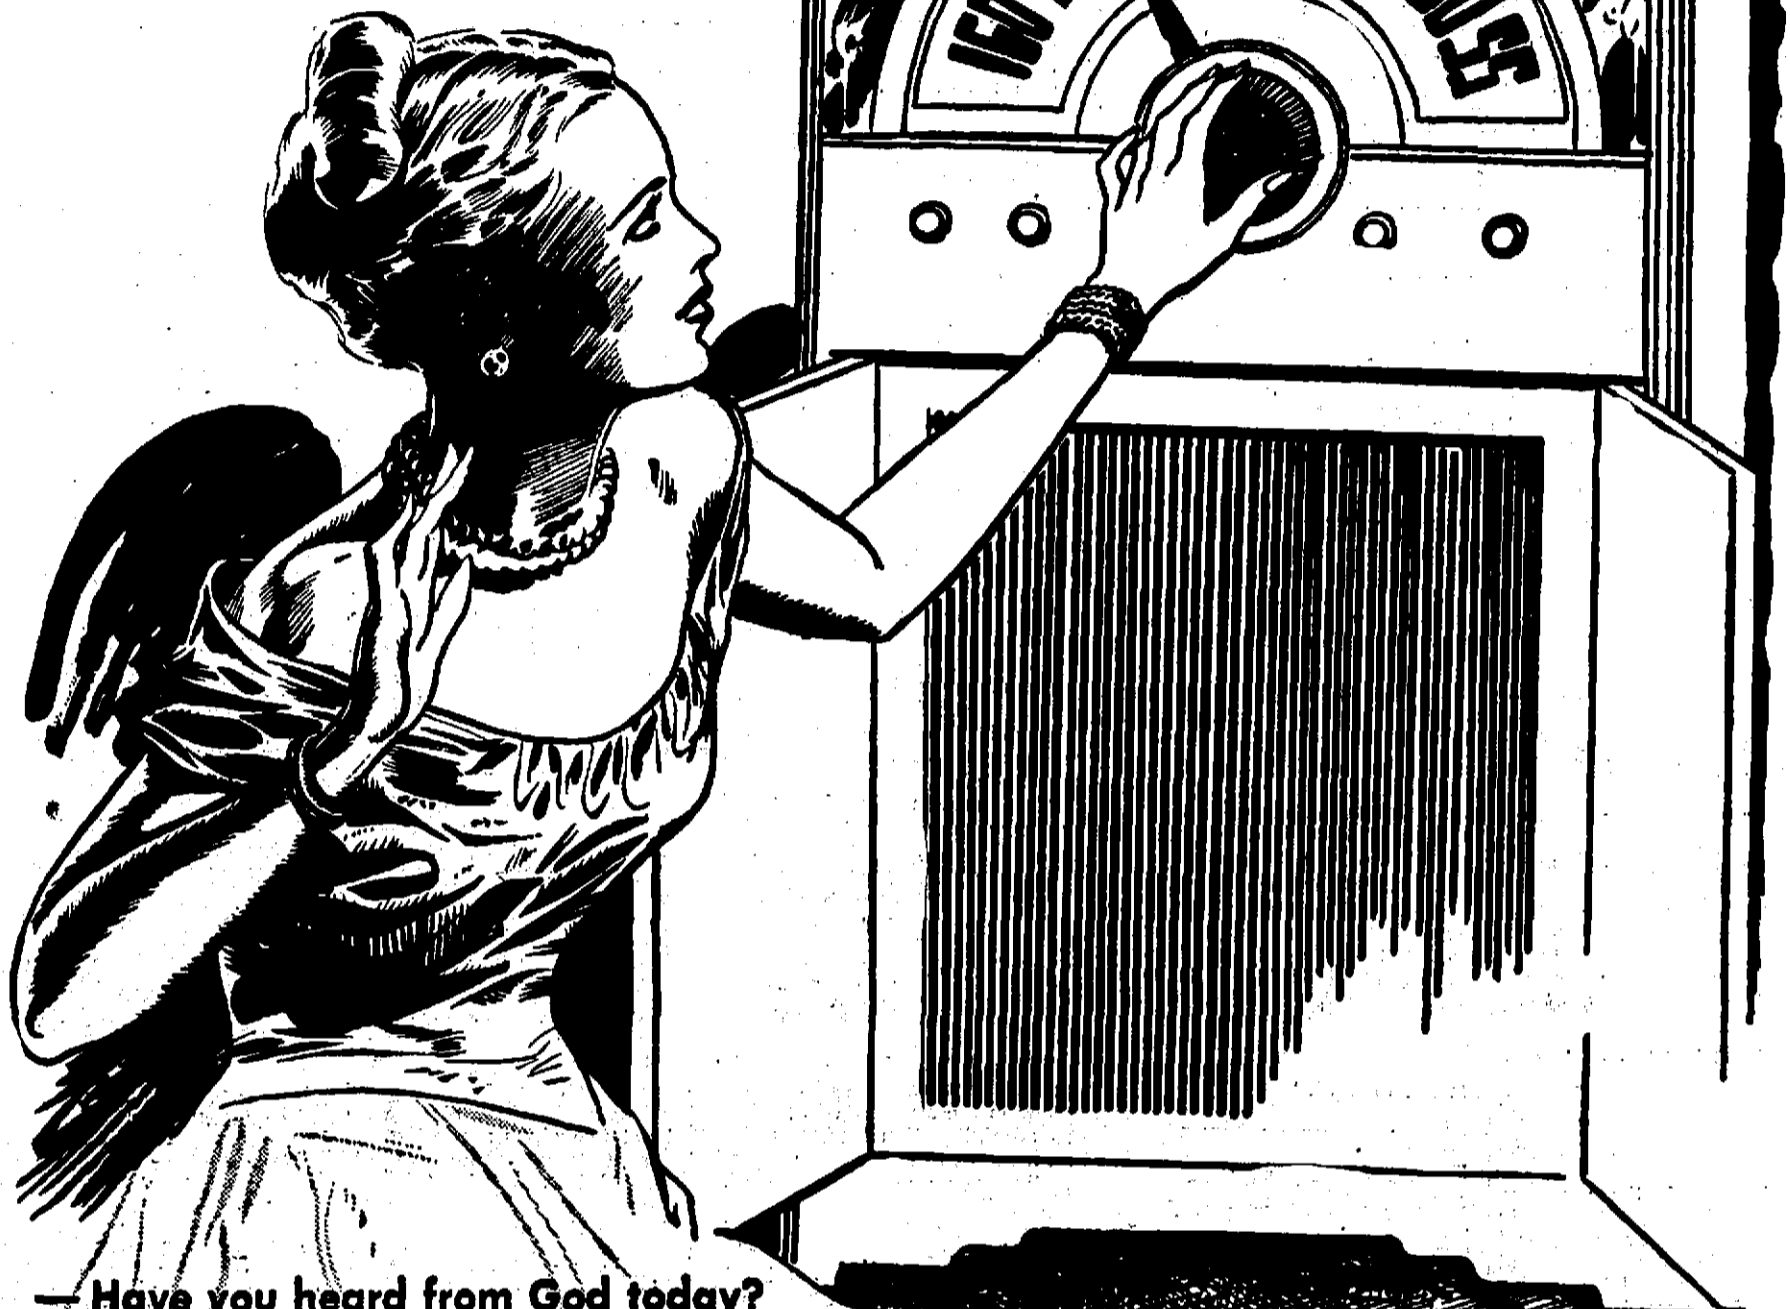

"It puts all the vehicles including trucks in the same buying period. At the present time the truck licenses are bought in July and it works better from a standpoint of department efficiency."

He said it was "probably an oversight on the part of the sponsor and if it had not been for that I might have signed it."

THE BEST CROWD TO FOLLOW IS THE CROWD GOING TO CHURCH

There's No Evil There Except What You Carry With You

KEEP "Tuned-in"

— Have you heard from God today?
Or is there too much static? Maybe you are just not 'tuned-in.' At this moment there are voices and music surging all about you.
Do you hear them? Maybe not, but you could if you had your radio delicately in tune. Prayer is the sensitive instrument man must use to get in tune with God. But it is hard to stay tuned in. Elijah failed here... and so do we.
That is why we need the church. It helps us keep our finger on the dial of faith and obedience to God's will. Go to church Sunday. Carry your walkie-talkie with you every day. Keep it tuned to heaven. Make frequent reports of your victories and failures, and receive your marching orders direct from God!
"Speak, Lord, for Thy Servant heareth."

"IF GOD BE FOR YOU, WHO CAN BE AGAINST YOU...."

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

When we speak of "the Twelve" it is always of the inner circle of disciples. Jesus gathered them to him and gave them the commission that was to transform them from fishermen and others of humble life into religious leaders and founders — among the most notable men of all time.

We call them "the Twelve," though one of them, Judas, proved a traitor, and some of the Twelve lapsed into comparative obscurity. But all of the 11 faithful seem to have been and to followers of their Master, and to have been active in laying the foundations of Christianity.

A correspondent recently inquired as to what became of the Twelve after what we know of them in the Gospels.

A careful search of available sources did not reveal much exact information. Tradition is blended with fact. The New Testament itself states definitely that the Apostle James was the first to suffer martyrdom (Acts 12:2). John, his brother, "the beloved disciple," apparently lived to a great old age, though there has been much controversy over whether he actually wrote the Gospel that bears his name.

The Epistle of James was written by James, Our Lord's brother, head of the Church at Jerusalem.

The tradition is that the Apostle Peter was crucified with his head downward, in his alleged unworthiness to be crucified in the same way as the Lord whom he had denied; and St. Paul also suffered martyrdom.

The other Apostles seem to have scattered from Palestine but, as I have said, all were active Christian leaders wherever they went.

There are some things concerning the Twelve that are not commonly realized. Chief among these is that Jesus and the Twelve were all young men. John the Baptist, also, was a young man, though for some unaccountable reason many have tended to think of him as a sort of patriarch. I am inclined to think, too, that the Prophets in their years of greatest activity were all comparatively young, though Sargent and other artists have depicted them as old, or well past middle age.

But one thing is certain: the early Christian movement was a youth movement. It was earnest and impassioned young men who rallied to Jesus.

What motivated them? The record does not make it all clear. They were evidently drawn by the Master's personality and teaching; but it seems certain that they anticipated His setting up an earthly kingdom in which they were to have a special part (Matthew 20:20-28).

How much their zeal was of youthful patriotism against Roman dominance — Matthew at least seems to have been an official under Rome — and how much it was religious, with the hope of an earthly Messiah, does not appear. The distinctly Messianic hope seems to have been more on the part of ancient saints, like Simeon and Anna, the Prophets.

But a professor under whom I studied, who had a wide knowledge of revolutionary movements, once remarked to me on the extent to which such movements were shared by beardless boys and white-haired old men.

However that may be, the youthful Twelve soon became the leaders of the greatest revolution of all. Their hope of an earthly kingdom became transformed into the building of the Kingdom not of this world. These humble men became founders of all time. It is THE miracle of history.

rate from starting at least until after the November 1938 general election and not then if the people vote against the act.

A curious sidelight to the Senate sales tax debate was the division among the three Pulaski County senators. Last summer, labor union leaders spent time and money trying to beat Senator Ellis Fagan. The same group backed Senator Max Howell solidly. Their colleague, Artie Gregory, didn't

Compromise on Taxes Is Out, Says Governor

By ADREN COOPER

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus today indicated he would strongly oppose any compromise on his 22-million-dollar tax program.

The governor's tax program was given a lopsided majority in the Senate yesterday but faces tougher opposition in the House. "In order to pass the program, we've got to pass it as it is," Faubus said at a news conference this morning.

There had been speculation the governor might agree to drop the livestock and poultry feed exemption from the sales tax in order to get his sales tax increase — a proposed boost from 2 to 3 cents per dollar — passed by the House. His other tax bills would broaden the base of the income tax and increase severance taxes.

Faubus repeated a previous assertion that he would veto a severance tax increase on natural resources if his other tax measures fail to pass the House. When asked if he would veto the sales or income tax measures if no part of his program is rejected, Faubus replied: "I don't believe I will face that possibility."

He predicted the severance tax would pass the House "in the same manner" as it passed the Senate yesterday.

The upper chamber approved the measure by a 34-0 vote. The lower chamber definitely will act on the tax program next week, Faubus said, but he added that no definite date for consideration had been set by his House leaders.

In answer to charges made on the Senate floor by Sen. Ellis Fagan of Little Rock, who opposed the tax measures, the governor said the administration planned no further tax bills. He also said he would not approve any changes in the sales tax bill. Fagan said the administration planned other tax bills and also would try to exempt some items from the sales tax.

Faubus said each of the proposals to add some county roads to the highways system would be considered on an "individual basis." He said that many county roads are added to the state system it might weaken the county judges' campaign for additional state turnpike funds.

Also, he said, the addition of numerous county roads to the state system might weaken the overall highway program. He added that there was no way the Highway Commission could be forced to improve such roads.

Fire Guts Building at Russellville

RUSSELLVILLE (AP)—Fire destroyed one building and damaged another in downtown Russellville early today.

Destroyed was a building housing Ben Bowley's garage. The fire damaged an adjoining building occupied by Henry Bros. Truck Lines.

Firemen brought the blaze under control about two hours after it was detected about 3 a. m. Fire Chief Raymond Rollow said cause of the fire was not known. Damage estimates were not available immediately.

draw an opponent. With union spokesmen opposing the sales tax increase on the grounds that wage earners would be hardest hit by it, it was Senator Fagan led the fight in the Senate in support of that position, while Senator Howell cast his vote with the majority that passed the three per cent levy.

Teamster in Threat to Labor Merger

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH Fla. (AP)—A building trades union clique apparently spearheaded by the embittered Teamsters Union threatened today to break up the AFL-CIO merger.

The building trades group claiming about 3 million of the AFL-CIO's 15 million members suddenly stirred up a long-quiet former CIO unions for job rights.

The Teamsters Union — largest AFL-CIO affiliate currently in touch with Congress for advising its officers they would lose nothing avoiding testimony in labor racket probes — seems to be stirring up the building trades into action.

Teamsters Vice President James H. Hoffa of Detroit, the union's midwest boss has been a major figure in most building trades meetings planning the revolt.

The latest development came in a statement by the building trades group that it will seek to "regain work now being performed by other organizations." This spells "war" to most former CIO unions. Unions of both the former AFL and former CIO have conflicting jurisdictional authority in their charters — power to assign members to work.

As Hoffa put it to reporters "We are out to recapture members the CIO crowd got that we ought to have."

Hoffa went on to say the teamsters hope to reorganize the building trades along Teamsters Union lines where power is concentrated regionally and by acres rather than in locals.

with a boy the same age I am (15) and want to invite him to a party. He can't come without a car and since he has no driver's license, I don't know if he will accept. Should I ask anyway?

Dear Sally: Your only responsibility is the invitation. Transportation is entirely up to the boy. If he wants to come with you, he'll find a way. To make it easier, you might manage to have someone invited who has a car, license, and lives near your boy friend.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I have been married only a few months. We are happy except for the fact that he insists on having his former girl friends over for dinner every Saturday night.

Dear Concerned: Invite your former boy friends, too, and make it a real party!

Your man needs a lesson in the wife's and wherefore's of marriage, particularly the responsibility department.

Beef Likely to Be Best Buy on Weekend

By The Associated Press

Beef in a wide range of cuts will be served for many a Sunday dinner this weekend if the household shopper goes for a bargain. The cut may be chuck roast, ground beef, sirloin or porterhouse steak since all will be featured in many stores for the next few days.

The fancier cuts are not as fancy, price-wise as they once were. Fish is more numerous on the bargain counter now with cod, tuna, halibut, haddock, bluefish, smelts and flounder given special mention.

Turkeys and veal cuts also will be featured in some stores with lamb, ham, pork and chicken bargains more widely scattered.

Chicken prices are reported 2 to 4 cents higher in many places but this generally is regarded as only temporary. Eggs too are a penny or two higher in some places.

Cabbage from nearby fields and Long Island potatoes and the root crops such as beets, carrots, parsnips and white turnips all are regarded as outstanding buys. Onions are reported somewhat higher than last week but still attractively priced while potatoes are moving the other way.

Iceberg lettuce from western sweet potatoes and new cabbage fields, broccoli, celery, peppers, sweet potatoes and new cabbage from southern and western patches are labeled good buys.

Corn and tomatoes are coming down in price.

The citrus big three — oranges, grapefruit and tangerines — again head the best buy list at fruit counters. They are a little higher than last week. Grapes also advanced in price.

Cool Down — You're Too Old For Teen-Age Girl

Dear Dorothy Dix: What can a 28-year-old man do when he discovered he's in love with a 16-year-old girl? Should I tell her or not? I can't ignore her, since we both work for the same firm.

Dear Jimmy: This is the time for prudence and patience. Say nothing, and I assure your ardor will probably cool. A declaration of love would undoubtedly send the poor girl looking for another job. To her you seem as old as Methuselah!

Dear Dorothy Dix: My older son is letting his younger brother take full responsibility for my support. Can he be made, by law, to assume his share of the obligation?

MRS. W. R.

Dear Mrs. W. R.: See the Family Court of your community. A dependent parent should be helped by all surviving children, but sometimes it's too easy to shift the burden entirely to one set of shoulders.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Our school has a happy solution to the problem of mixing boys and girls. Each year we have a formal dance and the girls ask the boys to take them. This way we finally get to the attention of boys we've been trying to have notice us.

MYRA

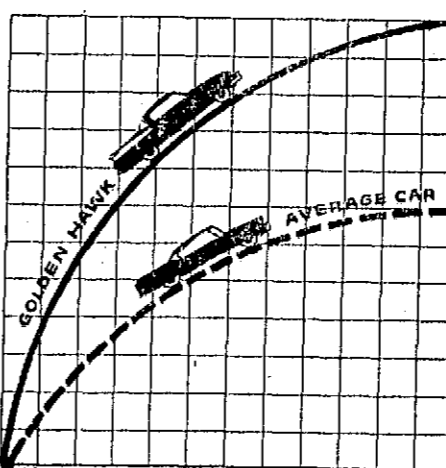

Dear Myra: A first-rate idea. Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love

BUILT-IN SUPERCHARGER!

A Studebaker-Packard exclusive so good other cars will have to copy it!

It's like having two engines in one—an economical engine for normal driving, and, when you want it, a super-powered engine for acceleration... for safer passing, hill-climbing and high altitude operation.

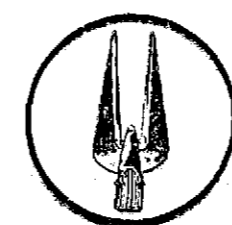

Today, only Studebaker-Packard brings you an engine with a built-in supercharger which has been tested and proved in service. Already, its high efficiency and remarkable performance have shown it to be the power plant of the future. Here, graphically, is proof:

The acceleration curves shown on this chart were obtained by plotting miles-per-hour against time, in seconds. The solid line shows the performance of Studebaker's supercharged Golden Hawk. The dotted line is the performance curve for the average American family sedan. Notice how much steeper the Studebaker curve is. It's the direct result of the supercharger pouring pressurized fuel-air mixture into the engine.

You can see how much more power the supercharged engine has in reserve for instant acceleration—at any speed—when you need it.

See for yourself—test-drive a supercharged Golden Hawk or one of the Packard Clipper sedans or station wagons at your Studebaker-Packard dealer's today.

AAA to Decide Big 8 Playoff

LITTLE ROCK — The Arkansas Athletic Association's executive committee will decide tomorrow if Big Eight teams can enter the Class A basketball tournament.

Johnnie Burnett, executive secretary of the AAA, said yesterday a school had requested the committee to move to withdraw from the tournament is a violation of AAA rules. Burnett declined to identify the school which made the request.

Big Eight schools voted last week against sending teams to the state tournament but indicated they would abide by an AAA decision on the matter.

Alston Sees Redlegs as Tough in '57

NEW YORK — Manager Walter Alston expects Milwaukee and Cincinnati to give his Brooklyn Dodgers their toughest challenge this year with St. Louis also a factor in the National League pennant fight.

"A year ago we were worried about out pitching," he said at a press conference. "We didn't know what to expect from Johnny Podres, Billy Loos and Karl Spooner. Out pitching turned out better than we hoped even without the three men. Now with orders back and a few youngsters like Roger Crain, Don Drysdale and Don Bossett our pitching has a chance to be the best part of the club."

Asked to compare the Dodger staff with the Braves, Alston said, "Milwaukee has an established staff but our potential is just as good. We do have some question marks."

Alston said the status of Podres, whose back trouble resulted in his discharge from service, was indefinite. "If his back bothers him like it did when I had him at Montreal, we might use him on relief," he said. "If he can pitch like he did in the 1955 World Series, he'll take his regular turn, naturally."

The manager refused to get the controversy involving Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella, who admit there is cool feeling between them.

Asked about Robinson, who retired after he was traded to the New York Giants, Alston commented that the club would miss Jackie's "determination and spirit in the big games." He said he never had any "serious trouble with Jackie although we had out differences in the first year."

Trade Rumors Flowing Around Baseball League

NEW YORK — Trade rumors, fresh and stale, bounced around town today as club executives of the National and American Leagues arrived for a week-end series of meetings.

Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia's popular center fielder, was in the midst of the rumor popping bee, although many baseball men felt the Phillies couldn't afford to trade Richie after swapping off Del Ennis.

The Chicago Cubs, Milwaukee Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers, were reported interested in Ashburn.

Red Schoendienst, veteran second baseman of the New York Giants, again was in the rumor mill. One story had Schoendienst going to Milwaukee for second baseman Danny O'Connell, pitcher Ray Crone and Bobby Thomson.

Both leagues were scheduled to meet separately today with a joint meeting on the Saturday schedule.

The weekend also is expected to see player of the year Mickey Vernon sign a New York contract for an estimated $53,000. The 25-year-old owner of the triple batting crown received support from an unexpected quarter in his salary battle yesterday. Yankee co-owner Dan Topping, speaking at a luncheon, urged Mickey to "get what you can — you deserve it."

While Mantle sparred with his bosses, more than a dozen other players throughout both leagues rushed into the fold. In the higher estimated pay brackets were Billy Pierce, the Chicago White Sox star southpaw and first 20-game winner in 15 years ($35,000); outfielder Don Mueller of the New York Giants under slightly from last year's $22,000 salary; and catcher-first baseman Gus Triandos of the Baltimore Orioles ($18,000).

Other signings included outfielder Gus Zernilla, catcher Tim Thompson and rookie outfielder Leroy Schmidt of Kansas City.

Louisville Is Winner But Won't Get Bid

By JOHN GRIFFIN
UP Sports Writer
The Louisville Cardinals, riding a 10-game winning streak, are way out front in the race for the basketball title nobody wants — "best team that won't go to a post-season tournament."

Last year Coach Peck Hickman's crew won the National Invitation Tournament and this year they would certainly rate another tournament bid on the basis of their 14-2 record after a 69-60 romp over the University of Miami at Miami, Fla., last night.

But the Cardinals are under a post-season ban for recruiting imposed by the NCAA. Since the NIT abides by NCAA eligibility rules, that makes the Cardinals out of luck for either of the two big post-season court carnivals.

Right now Louisville's chief rivals for the "all dressed up and no place to go" award are seventh-ranked Illinois, which is trailing eighth-ranked Ohio State in the close Big Ten Conference race, and ninth-ranked Iowa State, which has the unhappy task of trying to beat second-ranked Kansas out of the Big Seven championship.

Louisville had little trouble with Miami as stars Charley Tyra and Bill Darragh scored 19 points each and combined for a total of 38 rebounds. The Cardinals drove to a 47-31 halftime lead and won easily before 2,188 fans, Miami's largest basketball crowd in three years.

Two other high-rated teams also won last night — 14th ranked Wake Forest and 19th-ranked Duke — as each tried to stay close to top-ranked North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference race.

Wake Forest, which beat Duke on Tuesday, downed Virginia 73-58, but came away disappointed over the failure of Jackie Murdock to set a major college record for consecutive free throws. Dave Ricketts of Duke set the new mark at 40 straight Wednesday night (and his streak still is "live.") Murdock had 37 straight going into last night's game, but missed his third attempt after three minutes of play. A shot that would have tied Ricketts at 40. For consolation, Murdock tied Virginia's Bob Harding for scoring honors at 18 points.

Duke, which took second place in the ACC with its victory, downed Maryland, 72-60, leading comfortably almost all the way. Jim Newcome of Duke led all scorers with 24 points.

In other leading games last night: St. John's of New York, ANIT probability, pushed its record to 8-4 with a 16-7 victory over Pittsburgh as Dick Duckett of St. John's and Don Hennon of Pitt each scored 19; Oklahoma City set its state at 12-5 with an 84-70 romp over Wichita and six Hubert Reed scored 24 and six Leon Griffin tallied 23; Utah State reached 12-5 with a Skyline Conference 88-60 rout of Colorado A&M; Brown ripped Harvard 58-56, in overtime in the Ivy League; Temple trounced Delaware, 27-56, in overtime in the Ivy League; Temple trounced Delaware, 27-56; St. Peter's ran its perfect record to 1-0, with an 81-60 win over Siena; Xavier of Ohio trounced

'Westward Ho the Wagons!' Is Adventure-Packed Saga

DAUNTLESS FRONTIER SCOUTS Fess Parker and Jeff York lead the wagon caravan onto Chimney Rock, dangerous Pawnee country, in scene from Walt Disney's "Westward Ho the Wagons!" the roaring adventure epic, in CinemaScope and Technicolor, which Buena Vista is releasing.

Starring Fess Parker, Jeff York and Kathleen Crowley, Walt Disney's "Westward Ho the Wagons!" the adventure-packed frontier saga, in CinemaScope and Technicolor was adapted from the screen by Tom Blackburn from a book by Mary Jane Carr.

The dangerous, hostile Indian-infested Oregon trail, from a point in northwest Nebraska to Fort Laramie, Wyoming, in 1844, provides the colorful outdoor setting for this all-time action feature. Among the landmarks along the wilderness route that figure in the picture are the Pawnee Trail and Chimney Rock, as well as other prairie campsites. For authenticity, a full-scale replica of the great log stockade at Fort Laramie and a Sioux tepee village were constructed.

"Westward Ho the Wagons!" is an epic story of pioneer courage and adventure on the Oregon Trail. It relates in vivid and striking detail the hazards, the suspense and the excitement of family life in a covered wagon caravan during the days when it was perilous to make a continental crossing.

Location shooting covered a vast expanse of territory, approximating an area of more than 26,000 acres.

Fullmer and Robinson Fight April 24

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—On April 24, at a time when the mink mating season is over and thoughts turn to rabbit punching, young Gene Fullmer will defend his world middleweight boxing title in a rematch with the old comebacker, Ray Robinson.

The site is Chicago Stadium, in an area satisfactory for blackout purposes to the national television sponsors.

Chicago and a 150-mile radius will not carry the fight to home video audiences but it will be cut in on the national broadcast by the same network, ABC.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, foresees a $200,000 gate after talking Fullmer's mink-raising manager Mary Jensen out of a June shot in Yankee Stadium.

The bout originally was to have been within 90 days of the first fight, which was held in New York Jan. 2. Although March date was acceptable to Robinson, Jensen wanted to stay at his Utah home to take care of his mink business.

Spring Hill and Hope Split Two

Hope and Spring Hill cage teams split a pair last night in the Spring Hill Gym. Hope senior girls scored a 59 to 38 victory with Judy Rateliff getting 24 and Jan Robinson hitting for 23 points. Shirley Stark was high for Spring Hill with 15 tallies.

Spring Hill senior boys took the "B" boys 63 to 46 with Britt Odum sacking 18. Delton Hatfield was high for Hope with 11.

Wilt the Stilt Challenged as Top Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — South Carolina's Grady Wallace and Mississippi State's Jim Ashmore have moved up to challenge Wilt Chamberlain and Chet Forte in the scoring race among major college basketball players.

With Chamberlain, the 7-foot Kansas ace, and Forte, Columbia's little hotshot, idled by mid-term exams, Wallace and Ashmore used a couple of top production games to make it a 4-man race.

Wallace hit 43 points against The Citadel Monday to boost his per game average to 19 even. Chamberlain, the leader from the start, remains first with a 30.6 mark with Forte right behind at 29.7. Figures from the National Collegiate Service Bureau include games through Jan. 28.

Idle Columbia took over as the leader in team offense during the week as the result of the slow-down Virginia Tech employed against West Virginia Tuesday. Although West Virginia won the game 59-54, its low total cut its season average to 85.9. Columbia has an 85.9 average but has played five fewer games than West Virginia.

There's no stranger in first place in team defense. Again, it's the Oklahoma Aggies of Hank Iba, with only 744 points permitted in 14 games, a 53.1 average. California is next with 53.2.

The Baltimore Colts drafted halfback Ronnie Underwood of Little Rock in the fifth round yesterday. In earlier rounds, tackle Billy Ray Smith of Augusta, Ark., was taken by the Los Angeles Rams, and quarterback George Walker of Roston, Ark., was drafted by the Cleveland Browns.

Logart, Bahama Battle Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Isaac Logart, ranked among the first five lightweight contenders, is a slight favorite over Yama Bahama, 153-pounder from Bimini in the Bahamas, in tonight's 10-round match at Madison Square Garden.

The match, scheduled for 9 p. m. CST will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television. From the record books, Bahama shows a 42-5-2 mark with 14 knockouts. Logart is 48-6-4 for 33 pro starts with 19 knockouts. Each has been stopped once.

Announcement . . .

The production of Commercial Eggs is fast becoming an important source of income from farmers in South Arkansas. As this phase of the poultry industry grows new programs are being introduced. Farmers and businessmen have asked that meetings be held to explain how these programs work in this area. The following meetings have been scheduled: Tuesday, February 5th, Guernsey Agriculture Building, Public School, 7:15 p. m.; Wednesday, February 6th, Hope City Hall, 7:15 p. m.; Tuesday, February 12th, Blevins High School, 7:15 p. m.

Representatives from Cameron Feed Mills will be present to discuss possibilities in the Commercial Egg Business.

A new plan whereby the grower furnishes labor, buildings, equipment and utilities while the company furnishes chickens, feed and remedies has recently been announced by Corn Belt Hatcheries, Hope, Arkansas. Under this plan the company will be responsible for Egg Marketing and the grower will be paid for each egg produced. Personnel from Corn Belt Hatcheries will be present to explain the details of this program.

Plan to attend one of these meetings. The production of Commercial Eggs could become a very profitable part of your farm business.

For additional information about these meetings contact A. D. "Sonny" Brannan, Hope, Arkansas, Phone — Prospect 7-4311 or Bob Griffin, Nashville, Arkansas, Phone 353.

Police Union Bill Now Up to Faubus

State Capital Bureau

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) (Special) — Around the House, it is generally conceded that any Pulaski County representative has two strikes against him when he tries sponsoring a controversial bill — and that idea was borne out by a double setback handed second-term member John H. Cottrell when in quick succession his measures to abolish county school superintendents' positions and to subject employment security division funds to legislative appropriation were defeated.

But, at the same time, over in the Senate Pulaski County Rep. Jim Coates has more than once publicly given credit to the support of organized labor for the narrow margin win in the 1953 primary. It is unlikely that his labor-leader friends will acquiesce in any suggestion that, to avoid a possible bad public reaction, he either sign the bill or permit it to become law without his signature.

He will be asked by union spokesmen to exercise his veto power. That would send it back to the Assembly and re-passage, if the administration makes a serious try at backing it, would be doubtful.

At an yrate, the passage of the bill was an upset. Labor's lobbyist had not taken it seriously. They were paying more attention to their arger pains for pushing through a minimum wage and possibly an amendment to the so-called anti-violence act.

Now they are faced with the disagreeable fact that a majority in both houses wants the unions to stay out of police departments. In the Senate, a bill to impose similar restrictions on a public employee is pending, with Senator Ellis Fagan of Little Rock as author.

Tax Exemption

ance tax measures but had received no action from the committee while the tax program had been passed.

Bearden's motion was criticized severely by Sen. Jerry Screeton of Hazen, who said that he "voted for the tax-program yesterday out if the leadership of that program is going to resort to such tactics then I'm not too proud of my vote. I came here to vote on any legislation that comes up."

There was not a single "aye" when a voice vote was taken on Bearden's motion.

In urging passage of the bill, Gregory said that "cows, horses and chickens are exempt while there . . . poor families have to pay three per cent sale tax." He pointed out that his opponents had pushed the preceding day for additional taxes, but still insisted on keeping the exemption on feed.

"Let's remember the golden rule," he said.

Bearden said that he was in a "unique position" because he had fought against the feed tax exemption in 1953. He also noted that Gregory had changed, ideas, and added:

"I guess the golden rule didn't apply then."

Mitchell announced at the start that he would use up the full hour which usually is permitted one man for debate. He said that falling prices had hurt the poultry raisers in recent months and that repeal of the exemption would "cripple the industry."

Mitchell, a feed dealer and poultry raiser, said that the tax paid on the feed needed to produce one chicken amounted to one cent.

"Since chicken growers make about five cents on each bird, they are paying the state 20 per cent of their income," he asserted.

Most senators paid little attention to Mitchell's speech and wandered aimlessly while Mitchell continued to cite figures on the broiler industry.

He refused to yield for motions to limit debate and Fagan refused to recognize motions to adjourn.

The Danville senator yielded to questions, one of which was "Have you heard the latest?" It was put by Sen. Fred Stafford of Marked Tree, who then proceeded to read a joke. It was an old one about a rural, first-term legislator who described the Legislature as "the only insane asylum I ever saw that was run by the inmates."

"That would apply here," Mitchell said.

He finally yielded at 4:40 p.m. — a somewhat late four for legislative sessions — and Gathright took over for a brief talk.

"If the governor is embarrassed, then it's his own fault," the Pine Bluff senator said. "Yesterday I tried to introduce my own amendments to the sales tax to exempt human food. Now you want to continue to exempt feed for livestock."

Sen. Clifton Wade of Fayetteville replied that "You will be taking the food out of a lot of mouths if you pass this bill."

Several other senators indicated that they would like to speak but they yielded to shouts of "roll call."

Those voting for Gregory's bill were Tom Allen of Brinkley, Fagan, Gathright, Gregory, Bob Harvey of Swift, Max Howell of Little Rock, Sam Levine of Pine Bluff, Tom Logan of Walnut Ridge, Screeton, Marshall Shackelford of El Dorado, Dan White of Fort Smith and Oliver Williams of Sheridan.

Either absent or not voting were Jack Clark of Texarkana, C. Van Hayes of Benton, Jack Shelton of Monticello and E. E. Yingling of Searcy.

After the 1955 Legislature enacted the feed exemption, opponents of the measure attempted to get it referred to a vote of the people. Alex Washburn of Hope, publisher of the Hope Star, and others apparently gathered enough votes but the move was blocked by a legal technicality. The state Supreme Court ruled the title on the petitions was not sufficient and the measure was not put on the ballot.

There had been some speculation that Faubus might agree to drop the feed exemption in order to get his tax measures through the Legislature, but he indicated yesterday he would not consider such a compromise.
